Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The declarations filed on 4-25-06 under 37 CFR 1.131 are sufficient to overcome the Ohmura et al. reference.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 19 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palomo et al., 6405126, in view of Rennard et al., 6405123, and in further view of Ashby et al., 6173277.
4. Palomo et al. disclose a computing device remote from a vehicle on lines 5-7, on column 6; identifying navigation information for at least one destination(102); automatically determining navigation information for the destination, wherein at least a portion of the navigation information includes geographic coordinates for the destination on lines on lines 18-29, on column 6; storing the navigation information in at least a first memory remote from the vehicle on lines 30-35, on column 6; the location data is stored on a portable storage media, the portable storage media being transferred to the vehicle to transfer the navigation information to the navigation device in the vehicle on lines 60-

65, on column 2; transferring the navigation information from the first memory to a navigation device in the vehicle on lines 37-38, on column 6.

5. Palomo et al. do not disclose the computing device accesses a publicly accessible web site; determining whether a data format of said navigation information conforms to data requirements of said in-vehicle navigation device prior to transferring, and converting the data format to an alternate data format prior to transferring said navigation information if said data format does not conform to data requirements of the in-vehicle navigation device. Rennard et al. teach the identifying step is performed on a web site on lines 4-34, on column 11. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the web site of Rennard et al. in the invention of Palomo et al. because such modification would provide an improved operating environment that allows a user to input complex information through alternative devices ahead of time as stated on lines 15-17, on column 11, of Rennard et al.

6. Palomo et al. and Rennard et al. do not disclose determining whether a data format of said navigation information conforms to data requirements of said in-vehicle navigation device prior to transferring, and converting the data format to an alternate data format prior to transferring said navigation information if said data format does not conform to data requirements of the in-vehicle navigation device. Ashby et al. teach determining whether a data format of said navigation information conforms to data requirements of said in-vehicle navigation device prior to transferring, and converting the data format to an alternate data format prior to transferring said navigation information if said data format does not conform to data requirements of the in-vehicle navigation device in lines 30-60, on column 3. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to check the format and convert it if necessary because it is instantly obvious. The system wouldn't work and it would be immediately obvious.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 19 and 26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
